

Introduction

Introduction

Welcome to Researching Social Life 1. My name is Chris Moreh, your module leader. You probably still remember me from last year's Knowing in Sociology, where in the second half of the module I introduced some of the methodological approaches that we will be looking at in a much more applied way here <sup>1</sup>. Before I briefly introduce the module and the semester, here's a reminder that you can contact me at my e-mail address and you can see me at the advertised office hours during the course of the module.

Taming information

More on this issue next. <sup>2</sup> spell

Another header

Welcome to Researching Social Life 1. My name is Chris Moreh, your module leader. You probably still remember me from last year's Knowing in Sociology, where in the second half of the module I introduced some of the methodological approaches that we will be looking at in a much more applied way here <sup>3</sup>. Before I briefly introduce the module and the semester, here's a reminder that you can contact me at my e-mail address and you can see me at the advertised office hours during the course of the module. Welcome to Researching Social Life 1. My name is Chris Moreh, your module leader. You probably still remember me from last year's Knowing in Sociology, where in the second half of the module I introduced some of the methodological approaches that we will be looking at in a much more applied way here <sup>4</sup>. Before I briefly introduce the module and the semester, here's a reminder that you can contact me at my e-mail address and you can see me at the advertised office hours during the course

---

<sup>1</sup>more info on this matter

<sup>2</sup>Some info that needs to go to the footnote here

<sup>3</sup>more info on this matter

<sup>4</sup>more info on this matter

of the module. Welcome to Researching Social Life 1. My name is Chris Moreh, your module leader. You probably still remember me from last year's Knowing in Sociology, where in the second half of the module I introduced some of the methodological approaches that we will be looking at in a much more applied way here <sup>5</sup>. Before I briefly introduce the module and the semester, here's a reminder that you can contact me at my e-mail address and you can see me at the advertised office hours during the course of the module. Welcome to Researching Social Life 1. My name is Chris Moreh, your module leader. You probably still remember me from last year's Knowing in Sociology, where in the second half of the module I introduced some of the methodological approaches that we will be looking at in a much more applied way here <sup>6</sup>. Before I briefly introduce the module and the semester, here's a reminder that you can contact me at my e-mail address and you can see me at the advertised office hours during the course of the module. Welcome to Researching Social Life 1. My name is Chris Moreh, your module leader. You probably still remember me from last year's Knowing in Sociology, where in the second half of the module I introduced some of the methodological approaches that we will be looking at in a much more applied way here <sup>7</sup>. Before I briefly introduce the module and the semester, here's a reminder that you can contact me at my e-mail address and you can see me at the advertised office hours during the course of the module. Welcome to Researching Social Life 1. My name is Chris Moreh, your module leader. You probably still remember me from last year's Knowing in Sociology, where in the second half of the module I introduced some of the methodological approaches that we will be looking at in a much more applied way here <sup>8</sup>. Before I briefly introduce the module and the semester, here's a reminder that you can contact me at my e-mail address and you can see me at the advertised office hours during the course of the module. Welcome to Researching Social Life 1. My name is Chris Moreh, your module leader. You probably still remember me from last year's Knowing in Sociology, where in the second half of the module I introduced some of the methodological approaches that we will be looking at in a much more applied way here <sup>9</sup>. Before I briefly introduce the module and the semester, here's a reminder that you can contact me at my e-mail address and you can see me at the advertised office hours during the course of the module. Welcome to Researching Social Life 1. My name is Chris Moreh, your module leader. You probably still remember me from last year's Knowing in Sociology, where in the second half of the module I introduced some of the methodological approaches that we will be looking at in a much more applied way here <sup>10</sup>. Before I briefly introduce the module and the semester, here's a reminder that you can contact me at my e-mail address and you can see me at the advertised office hours during the course of the module.

---

<sup>5</sup>more info on this matter

<sup>6</sup>more info on this matter

<sup>7</sup>more info on this matter

<sup>8</sup>more info on this matter

<sup>9</sup>more info on this matter

<sup>10</sup>more info on this matter